

TRIAL

OF YOUNG FOSBURG BEGINS AT PITTSFIELD, MASS.

JURY SECURED VERY QUICKLY.

Great Trial Will Prove Whether or Not May Fosburg was Killed by Her Own Brother or by a Midnight Intruder—Prominence of the Fosburgs.

Pittsfield, Mass., July 18.—The curtain has risen on the life drama of Robert Stewart Fosburg. He has been placed before the bar of justice and pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with murdering his sister in that midnight tragedy of August 30th last. It now remains for the young man to produce evidence which will justify the jury in bringing in a verdict which will bear out the plea he entered.

Young Fosburg's black hair of last August has silvered considerably during the few months. But when the clerk put the question "Are you guilty or not guilty?" the young man threw back his head, gazed fixedly at Judge Stevens and replied sharply: "Not guilty." The great trial begun will determine finally whether or not May Fosburg was killed by her own brother or a midnight intruder. The mystery of the case is the greatest ever supplied by a murder trial in New England and the prominence of the Fosburg family and its absolute loyalty to the accused make the trial of absorbing interest.

Arraigned against the Fosburgs in the prosecution is first and foremost, John Nicholson, Chief of Police of Pittsfield, a personal friend of Fosburg, and who from his investigations of the death of May Fosburg was in pursuance of his duty, obliged to bring certain facts before the grand jury which resulted in the finding of a bill against Fosburg.

The state has some 35 witnesses, including medical experts, gun experts, and others, but not a suggestion has been made of what evidence these witnesses will produce to controvert the united testimony of the Fosburg family that a burglar killed May Fosburg.

Beatrice Fosburg, the fourteen year old sister of the defendant is the only member of the family summoned by the government. Beatrice occupied the same room with May on the night of the shooting and is the one who told Miss Bertha Sheldon a few minutes after May was shot that burglars had been in the house and had killed her sister.

Within a half hour today a jury was secured. Then the lawyers addressed the jury and the celebrated trial is now on.

STORMY

TIMES ARE LOOKED FOR SOON AT WELLSVILLE

And Also at McKeesport—Carnegie Refuses to Interfere—Firemen's Strike in Pennsylvania.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 18.—The journey of President Shaffer and other Amalgamated officials to Wellsville, Ohio where they will address a mass meeting this afternoon, shows where the men consider the first determined efforts to re-open a mill with non-union men will be made by the Steel trust. Stormy times are looked for soon at Wellsville and McKeesport.

Skibo Castle, Scotland, July 18.—Mr. Carnegie refuses to interfere in the American steel strike.

EARL RUSSELL

Pleaded Guilty to Bigamy and was Sentenced to Three Months' Imprisonment Thursday.

London, July 18.—Two hundred peers today tried Earl Russell for bigamy. He was charged with marrying Mollie Cook in Nevada while his wife was living in England. The trial occurred in the Royal gallery, House of Lords. The peers all wore robes and it was a gorgeous scene. Russell's lawyer explained that the earl thought he had a divorce. Russell then pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

Wild Man Found.

Newburg, N. Y., July 13.—A "wild man", stark naked, captured in the woods here, says he is John Martin of New York. He says the weather was so hot he threw all his clothes away. His body is badly burned by the sun, and is covered with bruises. Heat probably drove him insane.

Steyn's Escape.

London, July 18.—The Standard has details of the escape of Steyn recently when Broadwood's brigade captured the town of Reitz. Steyn was asleep when the British came. Clad only in his night shirt, he jumped on a horse and galloped away, was shot at but was unhurt.

MR. LAIRD

WAS A SCHOOL BOY HERE BACK IN 1878.

Now One of the Attorneys in the Celebrated Trial at Parkersburg. The Case.

The case of the State of West Virginia against E. B. Glenn, now on trial at Parkersburg, W. Va., for forgery, is exciting much interest throughout the country. The person at the time the forgery was committed was a man, and the person now on trial is a woman. The State claims that the person now on trial, claiming to be Ellis Glenn, a woman, is the same person, while masquerading as a man, who committed the forgery.

Persons in Newark take more than a passing notice of the case by reason of the connection of Attorney John F. Laird, who is an old Newark boy, as was briefly stated in the dispatches to the Advocate on Wednesday from Parkersburg.

John F. Laird was the Prosecuting Attorney at Parkersburg when the indictment was returned against the defendant. His term having expired he is now one of the attorneys for the defense. The present prosecuting attorney made objections to Mr. Laird acting as one of the counsel for the defense by reason of the fact above stated, but the court overruled the objection, and Mr. Laird is still acting as the attorney for the defense in this case.

As has been stated John Laird is an old Newark boy, and for many years lived at his home in the East End. He was a graduate of the Newark High school with the class of '78, while Prosecuting Attorney T. W. Philipps was the principal. He afterwards received the appointment from this district to the Ohio University at Athens, and afterwards graduated in the classical department of that institution. He afterwards studied law for two years with Mr. Philipps in this city, after which he went to Parkersburg, W. Va., where he was admitted to the bar. He has served two terms as Prosecuting Attorney and is one of the leading attorneys in Parkersburg. Mr. Laird was a brother of Robert Laird, deceased, who was a son-in-law of Mr. O. Burner, the well-known undertaker of this city.

The defense in the Ellis Glenn forgery case tried for hours to exclude from the evidence the deed of trust alleged to have been forged and to nullify the part of the indictment relating to it, for the reason that the indictment charges E. B. Glenn with forgery, while the name on the deed of trust is "E. B. Glenn." The Court took the matter under advisement.

Several experts testified as to handwriting, all testifying that the signatures of George Hoover on the $400 note and the $1400 note are not the same, and that the alterations in the deed of trust appear to be in the same handwriting as the various E. B. Glenn signatures.

Dr. Gail Samuels who examined Ellis Glenn under direction of the Court testified that she is a woman but was not allowed to tell the jury about her broken leg and scars on her body.

FEAT

UNPARALLELED IN MOUNTAIN CLIMBING

SAVE A YOUNG WOMAN'S LIFE.

Miss Rawson Had Fainted near Summit of Mt. Hood and Great Difficulty Was Encountered in Getting Her Down the Mountain—A Human Toboggan Was Used.

Tacoma, Wash., July 18.—By a feat almost unparalleled in the history of mountain climbing on Mt. Hood, the life of Miss Bethel Rawson of DeMoss, Oregon, was saved from death by freezing. She was one of a party that attempted the ascent of the mountain in the morning. Exhausted by the climbing and succumbing to the cold, she fainted near the top. In a driving storm she was carried up the difficult ascent to the crater. There efforts were made to rescue her, but they failed. Then began a tremendous task. Down a deep descent, with a yawning crevasse that made the steepest quality an almost lifeless woman was borne.

The return trip was full of the greatest hardships. Finally the snow field below the crater was reached. Then the plunge down was begun, the women being carried by the men.

This was found to be slow. An effort was made to rig up a sled on which Miss Rawson was to be sent down alone. This was deemed too hazardous. Then one of the party, F. M. McElfresh, offered to make a human toboggan of himself. He was strapped to a plank and holding the unconscious woman in his arms he was shoved down the mountain side. The descent was made at lightning speed, but without accident. The girl was conveyed to a camp and restored.

SENT A LETTER

BY A MESSENGER TELLING OF "HER" LOVE,

And Asking the Man to be at a Designated Place in Ten Minutes—It Worked.

On Wednesday afternoon, while the famous Sixth regiment band was giving a concert on the east side of the Court House, a young attorney, who has not yet gotten over his love for playing tricks on his chums, espied a friend, who by the way, is a prominent man of the city, perched high up on the stone steps, drinking in the beautiful music. He immediately conceived a brilliant idea. Being a fine penman he dictated a loving epistle, couched in most beautiful language, to the aforesaid man, and impersonating a lady's writing to perfection. The writer went on to say that she had had her attention directed to him on several occasions, and that she had fallen in love with him and that she desired above all things to make his acquaintance. She asked him to pardon her forwardness and seeming boldness, but assured him that she was a lady in every sense of the word. She wound up the note by asking him to meet her in ten minutes on the west side of the Court House, where she would be awaiting him. In order that he might not be mistaken she said that she would wear a flower on her left breast and that she would carry her handkerchief in her hand. The letter was signed by a fictitious name of a woman, and a small boy was dispatched to deliver it. Several of the boys were let into the secret, and their eyes followed the boy until he had placed it in the hands of the man addressed. After he had read the note he was seen to carefully place it in his vest pocket, as if it was of no consequence. After that the music had no more charm for him and the watchers noticed that he was very nervous, glancing at his watch two or three times inside of five minutes. At the end of seven minutes he was slowly seen to leave the crowd and hurry around to the west side of the Court House. Arriving there he was seen to glance hurriedly at the different persons who were congregated there, but the object of his search was nowhere to be seen, and he reluctantly left, although he lingered in the vicinity for nearly an hour. Friends from a window nearby enjoyed the fun.

All Are Cousins.

Huntington, W. Va., July 18.—The marriage of first cousins is not an unusual happening in this country, but when three couples all of the same name are united in holy wedlock it occasions some surprise. An instance of the latter is found in this county 10 miles east of here. Some time ago R. D. and Adam Waugh married daughters of their uncle, Charles Waugh, a well-to-do farmer, who died recently. Charles' son Henry was this week married to the sister of his cousin-brother-in-law, who is also his own first cousin.

HORSES FOUND

IN WOODS THREE MILES NORTH OF APPLETON.

Cashier Buxton Says the Bank Safe Contained More Than $800—New Safe Ordered.

Alexandria, O., July 18.—The three horses stolen from M. D. Shrader by the Alexandria bank robbers were found in the woods three miles north of Appleton last night by John Jones and Richard Proctor of Alexandria, and brought back to town in good condition. There was no trace of the men who had abandoned the teams in the woods.

Cashier Buxton of the bank at Alexandria, stated this morning that the amount of funds in the bank at the time of the attempted robbery had been grossly underestimated. While he did not care to state the exact amount of funds on hand, he did say that the reported sum of $900 was much too small.

The bank safe which the robbers were unable to open, has finally been opened and the contents found to be safe. As the safe was badly damaged the proprietors of the bank have ordered a new one to be delivered at once.

Wocster, O., July 18.—The section of the county above Apple creek and Fredericksburg was razed by a cyclone last night. No lives were lost but entire orchards were blown out by the roots and great tracts of timber were downed.

BITTER FIGHT

On the Temperance Issue at West Union, Ohio—Streets are Parolled by the Citizens.

West Union, O., July 18.—Intense excitement prevails at Winchester, this county, by reason of a bitter fight between the saloon and temperance people, and fears are entertained that the village will be wiped out by fire at the hands of some unruly partisans. Several years ago the saloons were voted out of the town and their places were taken by drug store bars, blind tigers, etc., which have been causing the authorities all sorts of trouble.

The temperance people did everything in their power to rid themselves of these, but they were unable to do so. Recently representatives of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League organized a branch league in the village, and as a result the retail whiskey sellers have been arrested several times during the past few months. Saturday warrants were issued for every dealer in the town. Two were arrested and their trial set for Friday.

This action so enraged the people who were in favor of whiskey being sold that many threats were made that if the prosecution of the whiskey sellers did not cease the town would burn to the ground.

Tuesday night two barns in different parts of the town were fired, presumably by friends of the saloon element. One of the barns belonged to Charles Smith, son of the Mayor of the village, who has been very active in the prosecution, and the other to Councilman Jones. Each barn was extinguished without any difficulty. The inhabitants are greatly excited and a special meeting of the council was called to take action in the matter, also a meeting of the citizens, who organized a Vigilance Committee to protect the property. The streets will be patrolled and every effort made to prevent the carrying out of the threats.

BATTLE

BETWEEN ROBBERS AND OFFICERS AT RAVENNA

AT 3 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING.

One Burglar Was Shot Dead While His Partner Hurriedly Retreated. The Two Men Had Broken Open a Cash Drawer and Had Secured Fifty-Five Cents.

Ravenna, O., July 18.—An unequal duel between robbers and Officer Richard B. Fairchild, took place on the main street here at 3 o'clock this morning. The officer won when he put a bullet through one robber's heart. The second man made his escape. The two men broke into the millinery store of Mrs. Rose Kammerer. The proprietress heard them and telephoned to the police. Fairchild and W. F. Judson responded to the call.

They approached the store from different directions. Fairchild met the robbers and called upon them to halt. The burglars ran.

The officer opened fire. Then the men turned and while they retreated slowly down the street, they fired volley after volley at the plucky officer, who kept close after them and returned shot for shot.

When eight or ten volleys had been fired one of the robbers threw up his hands and dropped dead, shot through the heart. The second robber turned and fled. The men had broken open the cash drawer and secured 55 cents. The dead robber is unidentified.

COLLAPSE

OF A FOUR STORY BUILDING AT GRAND RAPIDS

Followed by a Big Fire Which Did Great Damage—Fireman Connor Fatally Injured.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 18.—A terrible catastrophe occurred in this city early this morning, when the Luce four story brick block collapsed and then tumbled into the street, and the worst fire in the history of this city began which threatened the whole center of the city. The flames spread rapidly.

Fireman Connor fell from a 50 foot ladder and will die.

The cause of the building falling was the remodeling inside during which workmen cut away some main pillars. The estimated loss to Friedman & Co. is $150,000, total; Luce building $80,000, total; Wurzburg $40,000, partial; Blodgett & Co., $30,000, partial; Blodgett building, $100,000, partial; a dozen outside furniture exhibitors in Blodgett building of sample furniture, $5,000 each. The White building $1600, partial.

FIREMEN'S STRIKE.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 18.—At the meeting this morning the engineers and pumpers decided to join the firemen and the firemen's demands are granted. The firemen then decided to remain out until all the engineers were came out in sympathy and re-entrained.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 18.—The firemen have steadily gained ground. All the mines in the Wyoming valley are closed up. In Scranton half the mines are idle. More will close tonight. There is no strike in Hazleton, Shamokin or Mt. Carmel districts yet.

At the latter two will take place Monday and in the Hazleton district they will break the strength of the firemen's union because they believe that after an eight hour is granted the firemen will want an increase in wages. Indications, however, are the firemen will win, as water and gas are doing thousands of dollars damage to mines every hour.

THE WEATHER.

Prediction for Newark and vicinity: probably fair tonight; fair Friday; moderate temperature. Temperature extremes at Columbus station 23 years' record for July 18: Maximum, 97 degrees in 1894; minimum, 55 degrees in 1892; minimum temperature at Columbus in the past 24 hours, 58 degrees; maximum temperature, 94 deg.

RICH WIDOW

Badly Wanted By De Vany—Failed to Win Her and Tried Other Methods.

Chillicothe, O., July 18.—George De Vany, of Highland county, the "Farmers' Friend" and for many years a presidential candidate on a platform peculiarly his own, has just gained additional notoriety by an attempt to capture a rich widow, Mrs. Dudley O. Diggs. The story developed here in the office of a prominent attorney.

Mrs. Diggs who is worth about $90,000 lives near South Salem. She alleges that De Vany has been a persistent suitor for some time past. He succeeded in ingratiating himself with her. But she steadfastly refused to become his wife, and, finding that his personal fascinations did not suffice to win her, he finally had recourse to other methods.

Mrs. Diggs has been very prominent in church work for years, and a few days ago De Vany came to her with the startling intelligence that the church people had caused him to be arrested at Cincinnati for undue intimacy with her, and that the only way to avoid a big scandal would be to marry him. Naturally she was badly frightened, and finally promised to come with him to this city and get married. She came here with him, but at the last moment decided to consult a lawyer.

It was very soon found that the story of the arrest was an invention of De Vany's and that no proceedings had been begun against either of them.

HANNA ALARMED.

A newspaper interview with Senator Hanna represents him as seriously at-tempting to criticize the State Demo-cratic platform. He calls it "sugar-coated poison." He argues with ear-nestness against its principles. He gives evidence that the Democrats have caused him serious uneasiness. This is a great change. For the last half dozen years Hanna, as the Republican manager, has declared that in adher-ing to Bryan and Bryanite platforms Democrats have done just what he wanted them to do; they have made Republican victories easy. Now he gives evidence of alarm. He will be seared worse yet before the next elec-tion if Democrats are true to Demo-cracy.

BRITISH INHUMANITY.

In the British parliament a few days ago one of the ministers made an of-ficial statement of the condition of the concentration camps established on the Weyler plan in South Africa. From this it appears that the Boers in these camps number 14,624 men, 27,711 women and 43,075 children. This is a larger stroke of business than the Spanish general attempted, and it is not to be wondered at that he objects to being set down as "Wey-ler, the butcher," when the British ministry is sanctioning the same in-humanities he established. When it is recalled that the population of the two republics when the war broke out was only about 250,000, and, counting 20,000 lives lost and 20,000 prisoners, we find that the Boer population is pretty well disposed of. It is estimated that DeWet and the other partisan chiefs have about 15,000 in their commands. At the present rate, in the course of a few years all the male Boers will be under the ground and the women and children in Weyler camps. Subjuga-tion will be complete and British civ-ilization vindicated.

There is basis for the story that Aguinaldo sold the opportunity to capture him for a cool million. The Administration papers insisted all along that all Aguinaldo wanted was money; that he would betray his peo-ple for a mass of postage.

Tales of Aguinaldo.

Manila, July 15.—Reports have been received here stating that the Filipino official organ in Madrid, Fili-pinas Anteo Europa, and published in that city, has printed an alleged order from Aguinaldo dated Palanan, Janu-ary, which directs the execution of all American prisoners. When questioned about this order Aguinaldo said he had always been considerate to pris-oners and denied the authorship of the order in question. He claimed many orders had been issued by mili-tary officers in his name without his authorization or sanction.

The American military authorities have documentary evidence dated No-vember, 1898, to the effect that the Filipino leaders contemplated creating a Philippine monarchy and nobility. Aguinaldo, when questioned, declined to discuss the matter.

General Corbin's Mission.

Manila, July 15.—Adjutant General Corbin, Surgeon General Starnberg and General John F. Weston of the subsistence department will be ten-dered receptions at the headquarters in Manila of the division and depart-ment commanders and their staffs. General Corbin explained that the chief purposes of his visit to the Phi-lippines were to get in better touch with the details of the situation and to further the desire of the administra-tion for greater economy in the army of the Philippines. General Corbin has been invited to accompany the members of the civil commission on a trip to the northern part of Luzon Island. He will probably decide to visit the southern islands of the archi-pelago instead.

Epworth League Convention.

San Francisco, July 18.—The Ep-worth league fifth international con-vention opened with 30,000 delegates in attendance, 18,000 of these coming from points east of the Rocky moun-tains. The convention was formally called to order by the chairman, Rev. Thomas Filbin. After a song service by a chorus of 2,000 voices addresses of welcome were made by Governor Gage and Mayor Phelan. Members of the league then spoke on matters of di-rect interest to the convention.

Tolstoi's Condition Critical.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—Newspaper and private dispatches received from Moscow represent Count Tolstoi as seriously ill with gastric trouble, and say his friends and relatives have been summoned to his bedside. Count Tolstoi has often held serious attacks of this nature, but he is expected that he will again conquer his illness. He never completely recovered from his attack of gastric fever last winter.

Farmer's Wife Assaulted.

Portage, Wis., July 18.—Mrs. Fred Hodge, a farmer's wife residing near Oxford, was criminally assaulted by two masked men while returning from the field. She is feared she will die. The enraged farmers have formed a band and are scouring the surround-ing country for the assailants.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Fogarty of Lexington Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver Remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liv-er and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold at Hall's drug store.

GOVERNOR NASH PRESENTS SILK FLAG.

To Chief Geronimo at the Indian Con-gress—Indian Names Nash Big Buckeye.

Buffalo, July 18.—While at the In-dian congress Governor Nash present-ed a silk flag of the state of Ohio to Geronimo, the famous Apache chief. Geronimo expressed his thanks and then in turn presented Governor Nash's name on the tribal parchment as a member of his tribe, naming the governor "Big Buckeye."

The Eighth Ohio regiment, also known as "the president's own," ar-rived here and went into camp at the exposition grounds to remain at Camp Fillmore a week. The Eighth acted as escort to Governor Nash in the parade that preceded the Ohio day celebra-tions in the temple of music. Visitors from Ohio were at the exposition in large numbers. Large parties of rep-resentatives in the state legislature and men who served the state in the house of representatives at Washing-ton are among the Ohioans in the city. One of the distinguished visitors at the exposition grounds was L. C. Laylin, secretary of state for Ohio. Wednes-day Governor Nash visited the grounds unofficially. He visited a num-ber of the exhibit buildings as the guest of exposition officials, and saw a number of the midway attractions.

An investi-gation has been ordered.

Dick Called on the President.

Canton, O., July 18.—General C. W. Dick, of the Nineteenth Ohio dist-ict, chairman of the Ohio Republi-can executive committee, had a short interview with the president. So far as can be learned his mission was purely some official routine, but he probably also asked the president's views on Ohio political questions.

Toronto, O., July 18.—A boat load of nitroglycerin exploded in midriver about a mile below this place. The owner of the boat had just returned to it after a visit to a fishing camp on Brown's island, when the explosion occurred, leaving no trace of the boat or man. A number of men in the fish-ing camp were badly stunned.

THE TORIES.

During the American Revolution Cap-tain George Vail, a soldier in the battle of Long Island, but his grave could not be found. He left a daughter and a stepson, the child of a widow whom he had married. The widow was seated in her home on the Hudson river when the clock struck 10. A young man in the uniform of a British officer cau-tiously entered.

"You have brought your troop?"
"More than enough to capture ten rebels," said Captain Rudolph, for whom his mother's influence had pro-cured a British commission. "You are sure Horace Sinclair is in the summer house?"

"Twice have I heard his signal to Cora. The letter I wrote him he has deemed his Cora's, imploring him to hazard even life itself to meet her this night in the lonely summer house. Have you the chaplain with you?"

"He is below in the dining hall. But, mother, can you force Cora to become my wife?"
"You shall see," was the cold and firm response. "Go, capture Horace Sinclair. Bring him hither, bound. When you return, let the chaplain be with you. Cora will meet you and ere you part shall be your wife."

Her reckless son left her, and she rang a small bell as he departed.
"Tell Miss Vallame," said she to the prompt servant who answered to her call, "that I desire her here immediately."

The servant hurried to obey. She soon returned, bearing a lamp and fol-lowed by the lovely orphan. Cora Vallame silently bowed her head as she entered.

"Wait!" was all that the widow said, and as she spoke loud shouts, pistol shots and the clash of steel reached her ear.

Cora glanced uneasily toward the door and then to her stepmother's face. Ere long Rudolph threw open the door and was followed by two British dra-goons, who escorted a young man clad in the uniform of a Continental major of cavalry.

A short, ill looking man in black brought up the rear.

"Horace, and a prisoner!" exclaimed Cora.

"The same," said Rudolph, fierce with a bloody gas that seamed his cheek. "The rascal has slain two of my best men. But he shall die the death of a spy."

"My uniform proves that I am no spy," said Horace Sinclair. "I have fallen into a snare and am a prisoner of war—no spy. Cora, did you write me a summons hither?"

"Never, Horace," said Cora in aston-ishment. "Tis some trick of this—"

"Of mine!" said Mme. Vallame shar-ply. "Come, we have no time to lose. Cora, you see that gentleman in black? He is the Rev. Charles Fairweather. He is here to make you the wife of my son!"

"The wife of your son's meanest trooper shall I be sooner than his!" ex-claimed Cora.

"Consent," said Mme. Vallame, "or see Horace Sinclair hanged upon the tree where he and you have so often met!"

"They dare not hang me, Cora," said the calm voice of the bound officer. "I am taken in my uniform and no spy. Do not be imposed upon."

"Do not sing so boldly," said Mme. Vallame. "The hanging of a rebel, unfor-mored or not, is a pleasure to our loyal English general."

"Cora Vallame, you see that dial. It is now 20 minutes after 10. If when the minute hand shades the figure 9 your lips have not made you my son's wife, Horace Sinclair swings."

"Oh, Horace, what shall I do?" cried Cora as the silence grew terrible.

"Let me die a thousand times rather than behold you the wife of that rene-gade, who slew his mother's husband," said Sinclair.

"Oh, Horace!" And, weeping bitter-ly, she flung herself upon her brave lover's bosom, and ere the furious son and fiendish mother could tear them asunder Cora's quick hand, armed with a dagger, had severed the cords that bound the American's arms.

Sinclair snatched a saber from the hand of the nearest trooper and sprang upon the other, who went down, cloven to the chin.

Wheeling fiercely, the saber clashed with that of Rudolph and, sweeping back from the shock, came down with a mighty slash that sheered the ruf-fian's right arm from the shoulder.

Shouts and the sharp tumult of sud-den strife without snote Rudolph's ear as he fell, and the next moment the room was filled with American dra-goons, led by one whom he deemed long dead—George Vallame!

"Just in time, my boy," said Val-lame, who had escaped from the slaugh-ter of Long Island and for purposes of his own bore another name in the American army.

"I mistrusted this when I found the decoy letter written by that tigress. Returning to camp, I found the letter in your tent and, collecting a score of your dragoons, hastened to save you."

An hour after, as British soldiers filled the house so timely vacated by the Americans, they found Mme. Val-lame lying upon the body of her son and as dead as he. The sudden shock had slain her.

When the war was over, years after, Colonel Horace Sinclair and his bride, Cora, with Major Vallame, returned to the scene. But it was to see the man-sion a heap of charred ruins.

A Romance of the Wheat Pit.

The End of the Deal is the title of an unusually good business serial story which is to begin in an early number of The Saturday Evening Post of Philadelphia. A famous transaction on the Chicago Board of Trade is the basis upon which the author, Mr. Will Payne, has founded this striking romance of the wheat pit. A charming love story runs through the stern and stirring plot.

TWIN TROUBLES.

They are Often Together These Days. They Work Havoc All Over the Country and in Newark.

Weak, nervous, the digestion out of order—that is what ails a host of people. It comes about in this way. First from overwork or other causes, the nerves are burdened beyond endurance, nerve waste is not replaced, nerve force is weakened, then the stomach loses its nerve controlling power and indigestion follows with falling strength. When first Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills came to Newark people could hardly be convinced that this great medicine would remove this trouble. Now it is an accepted fact because of their cure of very stubborn cases no other medicine would influence. Mrs. S. T. Weakley of No. 119 South Fifth street, Newark, Ohio says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are all right. My digestion was weak, food did not digest and distressed after eating. This made me nervous and dull. I was told the Nerve Pills would cure this and they did. The digestion, stomach and nerves are strong again and I am glad that I got the medicine at Bricker's City Drug Store."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at dealers, or A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

HORSE'S HAT

Neatly Trimmed by a Milliner—The Bonnet is Useful as Well as Ornamental.

Straw hats for horses, which have been extensively used in the larger cities this season, have made their appearance in Newark, which probably enjoys the distinction of having the only horse whose hat has been trimmed by a sure enough milliner. On Wednesday while the horse of Mr. Dan L. Jones was standing in the blazing sun, his head however, being protected by one of the straw hats, Miss Mame Thurston, of Hansberger's millinery store, conceived the idea of trimming the hat, and to think was to act. Securing a small boy to hold the horse near she neatly trimmed the hat with flowers, making a very pretty effect and adding wonderfully to the comfort of the horse, as the flowers aided materially in keeping the flies off the horse's head.

He was engaged in picking cherries when a limb of the tree broke and he fell to the ground, a distance of fifteen feet, striking the ground on his head and shoulders. His father assisted him into the house when an examination showed that he had sustained no broken bones and he was soon all right again.

Newark proof for Newark people.

That's what follows here.

Surely no better backing can be had than the following statement from Mrs. B. Donahoe, 216 North Fifth st., who says: "For quite a long time my kidneys were much affected, and I had a heavy feeling across the lower part of my abdomen which made me miserable. Pain across the small of my back was often so acute that I was hardly able to move around and a distressing and annoying urinary weakness accompanied it. A friend of mine, who, by using Doan's Kidney Pills, had been cured of backache, advised me to try them. I took the advice and obtained a box at Crayton's drug store. First the kidneys were stimulated to a healthy and natural action, then the backache and general feeling of depression left me."

JUMPED IN CANAL

Did Charley Beatty at Zanesville After His Return From Newark—Was Not Hurt.

Zanesville, O., July 18.—Chas. Beatty met with an accident which might have resulted seriously. Mr. Beatty, in company with a companion, was returning from Newark on an east-bound B. & O. freight and just as they crossed the B. & O. bridge they started to get off. Mr. Beatty's companion alighted from the train first and called to Beatty to jump. The latter followed the advice and leaped from the train landing in the canal. He called for help. His cries brought a number of men to his rescue. He was not injured and was none the worse off for his adventure. It was 9:30 p. m. when the train pulled in and in the darkness Mr. Beatty did not see where he was jumping.

SHUT YOUR EYES

And Try This Experiment Suggested by an Akron Doctor—Maybe You Have It.

"Shut your eyes tight; stand with your knees close together, your hands clutched against your legs, your body rigid, and if you can keep from falling over without a great effort, you are not suffering from locomotor ataxia." Several people in a down town cigar store immediately made the experiment, as a local physician made the suggestion. One of them staggered forward and would have fallen had he not caught himself.

"It is not a sure sign that you have the disease," the doctor told him, "but yet your tendency to fall might be taken as one of the indications. A great many people are suffering from locomotor ataxia in a mild form, who have no knowledge of it."

The experiment was repeated by the young men and none were affected this time, though with all there was a natural tendency toward losing a nice balance.

"Yes, it is a dangerous disease," the doctor said, "and may easily terminate fatally. It attacks a cord of the spine and those who have the disease seriously stagger like a drunken man as they walk."—Akron Democrat.

CAMP BAUMGARDNER

Storm Blew Down Many Tents Wednesday Night Forcing Part of the Regiment Out of Camp--Major Eley Shocked by Lightning--News for and About the Soldiers.

The storm of Wednesday afternoon was very severe at Camp Baumgardner where the Sixth regiment is now in camp. The wind was particularly destructive, every cook tent being blown down except that of Company B. The mess tents also suffered considerably. In the camp a number of tents were blown down, and the rain, which fell in sheets made it uninhabitable for about a hundred of the officers and men, who came to town and spent the night here.

The damage has all been repaired, and all were most agreeably surprised to find that the grounds are finely drained, so that this morning drills seen, and we are enjoying ourselves immensely."

A number of the young ladies took a ride in the ambulance this afternoon, the guests of members of the hospital corps.

Col. Stanberry's wife is slightly indisposed, but nothing serious is apprehended.

The guard tents are to be moved so that each relief may have some shade.

There was a good battalion drill this morning, and this afternoon at 3:30 there was regimental drill.

Captain Cunningham of Co. D is officer of the day. Lieutenant Walsh of Co. L, officer of the guard, and Lieut-team.

Five new Krag-Jorgenson rifles have been issued to the members of the state team, and also of the Sixth regiment, which will be taken home by them and used in practice for the shooting at Seagirt.

General McMaken and two daughters, with C. A. Mendenhall, A. J. Col. Bell, members of his staff will arrive in camp this evening. The Sixth is a part of General McMaken's brigade, and he will spend several days with them in camp.

Captain Norton of Battery D of Toledo, who was in camp here with his battery last week will remain over the camp of the Sixth.

as if they had been toothpicks, and one of them in particular, a giant in every way, fell headlong within three feet of the tent in which Colonel McMaken was sleeping, missing a half dozen other officers' tents by just that margin.

Had it been otherwise, "they would not have been left to tell the tale." The hospital tent was a sight, boxes and bottles of pills and liquid spilled all over the floor, acids which burned into wood, while the hospital itself was scalped, the tents being lifted completely from covering the patients and blown away across into unused territory and into a barbed wire fence or "trocha" which runs across the

and the rest of the camp routine was not interfered with in the least.

A big limb blew down from one of the high trees, near the Quartermaster's tent, the branches scraping the canvass as it went over. Sergeants Gittings, Hoff and Hess were in the tent at the time, but luckily escaped injury. Had the limb struck the tent it would have crushed it, and those inside could hardly have escaped serious injuries.

Sergeant Major Eley, while standing in his tent, holding it down with a sword, was severely shocked by lightning, remaining unconscious for about 20 minutes. He recovered sufficiently to report for duty this morning.

The ladies in the camp fare well, tenant Rice of Co. K, junior officer of the guard.

Five men from each company were shooting on the rifle range this morning in the preliminary tests for company teams. Friday the company teams will enter into a regular contest for the highest team score, and a gold medal for the highest individual score.

The first five men on the state team which will compete at Seagirt, N. J., in the international shoot are members of the Sixth regiment.

The state team was selected at the shoot when Sergeant Richards won the governor's badge, which will be presented to him by Governor Nash in person, who will probably be here Saturday. Adjutant General Gyger

Capt. G. W. Cunningham, Co. D, Fostoria, Who is Officer of the Day Today.

The inspection of the regiment will probably be Monday by Col. Adams.

On account of the storm Wednesday evening the dress parade was ordered declared off, but every evening, the weather permitting, the dress parade and band concert will be features.

Private Clyde Kelley of Co. L, is the only occupant of the hospital and he is getting along nicely.

Carl Smith is with the Fostoria company "doing" the encampment for his paper the Review-Dispatch.

William Wallace the champion colored cake walker of Northwestern Ohio is with Co. D, and is doing a great business shaving and shining country at that point.

It was at this time that Colonel McMaken, now General, showed his regard for the safety of his soldiers, and he saw to it personally that each and every one of the boys had the best care possible. Drenched, bedraggled and with not a dry stitch to be had, with clothing and belongings blown to the four winds, it was with heavy hearts that they set about trying to put things in shape. But they did it, and how they made the quinine pills suffer, and the "gro" served in big tin cups.

The officers were greatly pleased to learn that the men who were down in town during Monday night had maintained the reputation of the regiment as being gentlemen.

Commissary Unger, considering his trials and tribulations, is considered the best natured officer in camp.

The Cuban Hurricane.

One of the stories which has been told and retold since the veterans have got together, is the one concerning the hurricane which struck Camp McMaken during the night at Chafuegos. It's all ancient history to the boys, but they seem to delight in talking about it, anyway, as that was about the most perilous situation in which they were placed during their absence.

The wind came in such strength and volume that tent after tent was laid low, big royal palms were bitten off

Sixth Boys Arrested.

Toledo, O., July 18.—Because they refused to go with the Sixth regiment to camp at Newark, warrants were issued Wednesday for the arrest of six Toledo members of the Ohio National Guards. The warrants, which were issued by Capt. Squire of Co. H, and Capt. Zurluh of Co. A, were placed in the hands of Sheriff Newton, whose deputies have made three arrests as follows:

Private Arthur Harter of 1331 Indiana avenue.

Private Herbert Everingham, 1921 Detroit avenue.

Private James O'Hackett, corner Monroe and Twelfth streets.

The three soldiers under arrest are all members of Co. H. They are now confined in the county jail, but will be taken to Newark and placed in the guard house.

Warrants are out for the arrest of another member of Co. H, and two members of Co. A, who have not yet been apprehended.

Ernest Smalley and Carl Kenritz, Co. A, and Robert G. Suter, Co. A, are the soldiers of the Sixth for whom warrants have been issued, but who have not yet been arrested.

Camp Notes

Lieutenant-Colonel Bryant was formerly of the Second regiment, and just recently secured a transfer. Colonel Stanbery became satirical when he said there "would be no board fence about the Sixth's encampment." The band accompanying the regiment is one of the best in the state, and is composed of 35 men, under the leadership of Professor Tubbs.—Toledo Bee.

The soldiers of the Sixth, the veterans at least, have a fund of Cuban campaign stories which they are already "swapping" much after the manner they dickered with the Cubans when trading their hard American money for coconuts, pineapples, guava jelly, and such stuff during Cienfuegos camp days.

The Sixth is composed of about 750 men, most of whom saw service during the Spanish-American war and were for a number of months in military charges about Cienfuegos in the south of Cuba, Sagua la Grande, Santa Clara and Trinidad. Licking camp S. A. W. V. will give a reception at Memorial hall tomorrow evening in honor of the Sixth veterans. Licking Camp is one of the most flourishing Spanish war organizations in the state. It is made up of members of Co. G, 7th O. V. I. and of Battery G, Light Artillery.

Seventh Regiment.

Col. C. A. Thompson of Ironton was in Zanesville Tuesday making preparations to muster in Tomlinson's band as the regimental band. Col. Thompson was well pleased with the selections rendered by the band, which will be a feature of the Seventh's encampment at Bay View park. Col. Thompson is a friend and college chum of John Ainsworth, manager of the Central-Union Telephone company, Zanesville Signal.

After the storm last night about 50 of the soldier boys paraded the streets in their bare feet—a la Valley Forge.

Infernal Machine.

New York, July 18.—John J. Kleacka, clerk of the Brooklyn Public Works today received a queer looking object through the mail. While he and Edward Schroeder were opening the package it exploded. Schroeder's right hand was blown off. The package was an infernal machine. Benj. Rosebloom was arrested this afternoon.

San Francisco, July 18.—Lady Francis Hope and Capt. P. B. Strong are en route to Japan. Secretary Root has accepted Strong's resignation. New York friends urged Strong to leave the woman and return home.

UNION MEN

MAKING BIG PREPARATIONS FOR LABOR DAY.

Newark Will send a Delegation to the Mansfield Celebration This Year

The Program.

(Mansfield Shield.)

Great preparations are being made by the union men of this city for the celebration of Labor Day on Sept. 2. Large delegations are promised from the various towns and cities near here. The following places will send delegations: Newark, Mt. Vernon, Barberton, Marion, Sandusky, Bucyrus, Coshocton, Galion and Crestline.

The parade will be very imposing. It is expected that between 3500 and 4000 union men will be in line. Each local union, of which there are twelve will be represented by a float showing the department which they represent. Some of the floats will be very elaborate affairs. A prize will be awarded to the best float. Another interesting feature will be the bicyclists in the parade, in which all wheelmen of the county are asked to participate.

Speeches will be made at the Central park by out of town orators and by local men on the labor question. With the exception of the orators of the day all speakers will be limited to five minutes each.

Athletics will be one of the features of the day. There will be a base ball game between the Mansfield team and an out of town team. There will be bicycle races. A five mile handicap will be run on the streets of the city, and also in the country. Some short distance races will be held at the Casino park. The foot races will consist of the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard dash and the half mile run. There will also be sack races and greased pole climbing.

Preparations are now under way for an automobile race. Two balloon ascensions will be a feature of the day. They will be conducted by Messrs. Nagle and Bomerlin of this city.

The prizes for the different events will be in merchandise. A large amount of money has been appropriated for the prizes and they will be among the best ever offered at local meets.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Value of Dishwater.

There are many people who are careful to save every pan of water in which the dishes have been washed to add it to the slop for the hogs, says American Cultivator. This may have been economy in the days when the dishes had been filled with mush or hasty pudding and milk. It needed no soap to wash that off, and there might have been some nutriment in it. But with the present diet it requires soap or washing powders of soda and potash to clean the greasy dishes, and all of it that is used as a food is worse than nothing, being an injury to good health of the swine and of those who eat their flesh. If economy is to be the practice, make a heap of fine loam or sand or even fill a hoghead with it and put the dishwater, the soapuds from the laundry and the chamber slops in this, and when it is well saturated use it as a light top dressing on the grass land or add it to the compost heap with a mixture of kainit, sulphate of lime or dry earth to absorb the ammonia that would otherwise escape as it began to decompose. This will prove a powerful fertilizer, rapid in action, though scarcely lasting in its effects, but this will depend largely upon the proportions in which it is mixed. If the hoghead is used, bore a few holes in the bottom, cover with burlap, then with three or four inches of charcoal fine or broken in small pieces and fill two-thirds full of loam. What leaches through will have but little value.

Care of Strawberry Bed.

After the strawberry bed has yielded its crop mow the tops of the plants close to the ground and burn them as soon as dry enough, choosing a time when there is wind enough to cause the fire to run quickly and not burn too long in one place, says American Cultivator. Then the weeds can be cut out with the hoe and perhaps the old plants and the land left to the new plants or runners. Some first work the paths between the rows and make the soil fine and rich with manure or fertilizer, then cut a new path where the old row stood, thus keeping the bed in the same place practically for several years. While this is an old fashioned method, those who are limited in their gardens or in land where they can grow strawberries can scarcely try any better method until rust or insects begin to injure the plants. It may not be adapted as well to those who grow strawberries by the acre as to those who have small beds for home use, but some who have tried it like the plan, even on a large scale, and do not change the location of their strawberry fields until driven from them or until they decide that they can get more profit from some new variety than from the plants that start as runners from the old bed.

Preventing Animal Diseases.

Swine cholera is a disease of filth and improper feeding. Give the hogs all the blood heating foods they can devour in hot weather, and sooner or later they may come down with the cholera. Likewise feed the cows with a heavy grain diet and deny them the sweet, succulent grass and roots of summer, and they will have hot, feverish blood, which may show itself in milk fever or any other trouble. Keep the sheep in hot, stifling, ill ventilated, foul smelling sheds these hot summer nights, and we cannot expect them to escape skin disease, which may spread from one to another and ruin half the value of the flock. If the poultry is kept in similar insanitary quarters summer or winter, they will be infested by lice, ticks and other diseases, which will keep down their weight and prevent good egg laying.

Adapting Crops to Soil.

When a man owns a farm of very sandy land, he makes a mistake to attempt to raise crops which do best on heavy fertile soils, for in so doing he is handicapped from the start and will undoubtedly fail to realize his expectations. In farming the very first step is to try to adapt the crops to the soil. In this we merely follow nature's example. There are crops which will do well on nearly every kind of soil found in the country. Only a few barren soils refuse to produce any kind of crops. If there is a proper amount of moisture, even the poorest sandy soil can be made to yield some paying crop.

WEDDING
Of Dr. George Hervey and Miss Cooper at Mt. Vernon—Mt. Vernon Banner's Notice.

The Mt. Vernon Banner prints the following notice of the wedding of Dr. George E. Hervey, son of Rev. D. B. Hervey, formerly of Granville, to Miss Cooper, on Wednesday.

Elegant in every detail was the wedding of Miss Sarah Craig Cooper and Dr. George E. Hervey, Wednesday morning, at eleven o'clock, at the home of the bride, East Gambler st. The rooms had been festooned with smilax, until they were like a veritable bower, with great masses of pink roses giving an artistic effect.

The bride is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. W. C. Cooper and the granddaughter of the late Dr. J. W. Russell, who, for years was prominently identified with the medical profession of the state. The bridegroom, Dr. Geo. Hervey, is a successful young professional man, a son of Rev. Dwight E. Hervey, for many years pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of the near relatives, Mrs. A. C. Dickinson and Miss Ada Curtis, the two lifelong girl friends of the bride. Rev. William E. Hull, rector of St. Paul's church, read the impressive marriage service, Dr. Wilber, pastor of the groom, pronouncing the benediction.

The bride, one of the most popular and charming young women in society, looked lovely in a handsome tailor-made gown of grey cloth. She carried a splendid bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair ferns. The elegant breakfast which followed the ceremony, was a delightfully informal affair, and a most joyous send off to the happy pair. The tables were superbly decorated with pink roses. Dr. and Mrs. Hervey left at 1:30 for a wedding tour to the Adirondacks.

WIND STORM

ALMOST PROPORTIONS OF A CYCLONE NEAR GRANVILLE.

Barn Roof Blown Off, Grain Damaged. Burglars at Granville—Picnic at the Park.

Granville, O., July 18.—A large number of Granville people are attending the Baptist Assembly meeting at Hiawatha Park, Mt. Vernon. This morning Misses Grace Farnsworth, Nixon and Mary Palmerton, went up and will remain several days.

This place was visited by one of the severest wind and rain storms that ever struck the village, about five o'clock on Wednesday evening. The wind north of the village attained terrible velocity, and approached closely to a cyclone. On the farm of Mr. Burton Case the wind lifted the roof from off his large barn, and carried it across one field, while many trees were blown down. Corn was also blown down and much damage was done to the growing crops.

During the past week several residences of this place have been paid visits by burglars. On Tuesday night Mrs. Leigh was aroused in the middle of the night by hearing a noise, and arising from her bed glanced out of the window and saw a man crawling over the roof of the porch. She made a noise and struck a light, which frightened the man and he hurriedly jumped from the roof and made his escape.

A most enjoyable picnic was held at Idlewild Park on Wednesday in which a number of Granville young people participated. Those who were in attendance were Misses Halderman, Corwin and Sample, and Messrs. Frank Robinson, Howard Jones and Rufus Jones.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

In the Bathroom.

Bathrooms, curiously enough, are apt to be better in apartments than in houses. This may be because apartments are newer and the health board more vigilant than in other days. At any rate, says a writer in Harper's Bazar, if you leave out of consideration large and important new houses, you will find that the best showing is made in apartment bathrooms. The newest of them always have tiled floors and dados, with the porcelain tubs, the closed plumbing being confined to old apartments.

It might seem, then, at first that almost nothing was left you as a tenant to do, but in reality there are ever so many opportunities for the giving of distinctive touches. The color of your rug, for instance, must be considered, and again of your curtains, and still again of your walls, and last, but by no means least, there are the color and quality of your basin and pitcher, since, most unhappily, all bathrooms are not furnished with stationary basins.

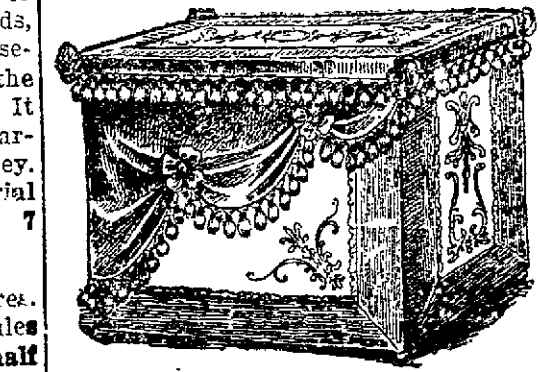

When, therefore, it is necessary to introduce a basin and pitcher, the problem is not always an easy one. It is sometimes met by a board, which is placed across the tub and on which the basin and pitcher are placed. If the tub happens to be an old one incased in walnut, this board can be treated with a walnut stain, but if the tub be white, it should also be painted white. Give it first one coat of ordinary paint, to be followed by another coat of bath enamel, which is not injured by hot water.

A Small Kitchen.

A large kitchen is not the ideal kitchen for a woman who is going to do her own work. "There was a nice old retired shipbuilder in my town," says the observing man, "who used to boast that he had one of the smallest kitchens on record and that his wife could sit in the middle of it and reach every article in it. That man knew what he was talking about, for he had arranged the culinary departments of so many ships that he could get the maximum amount of comfort, convenience and room in the smallest amount of space. His kitchen theory was correct, if the serviceableness of the kitchen can be gauged by the domestic happiness of the family. He and his wife lived simply and cozily. They kept no servant and were lovers all their lives."

A Handy Box.

A plain deal box ornamented in this way is both useful and ornamental. It may be used for keeping loose music, large pieces of needlework or for logs for the fire. A good, strong deal box should be selected, and, to begin with, brass feet or knobs should be fixed on each of the four lower corners. Cover the inside with stout paper or colored linen, bringing the edges over to the outside of box.

The covering for the outside of our model consisted of panels of light grayish blue Roman satin framed with a darker shade. An arabesque design is worked with tapestry wool in each end panel and a smaller one in the lower corner of the front. This covering may be fixed on by seccotine or fine tacks along the top and under the lower edge. A drapery of plush of the darker shade is carried diagonally across the front. It is edged with fringe and looped up under ribbon rosettes.

The lid is covered to correspond. It is edged with fringe, which falls down over the front and gives a nice finish.—Young Ladies' Journal.

To Induce Sleep.

The latest fad of the dainty housewife is the perfumed pad, a thin quilted affair with one layer of cotton, liberally sprinkled with sachet powder. The pad is placed between mattress and sheet, and the bed thus becomes redolent of roses, violets or whatever the odor selected. Another idea is to open the pillows and scatter sachet powder among the feathers. The lavender perfumed sheets of our great-grandmother's day are quite eclipsed by these floral sachets. It is claimed by those who indulge in this luxury that the practice is not harmful, as sweet scents induce harmonious phases of mind.

To Clean the Carpet.

When a carpet comes to be laid afresh, the colors are apt to look somewhat dingy and certainly not so bright as was expected. To remedy this use a pint of warm water containing two or three tablespoonfuls of household ammonia, a soft flannel and two fresh cloths for rubbing the carpet dry after it has been washed with the first flannel and water. This treatment will when the carpet is quite dry be found to give a most effectual renovation, but it must be remembered that certain greens will not bear ammonia. In such cases clear warm water will freshen and help the carpet very much.

Home Shampoos.

Scraps of soap left over from the cakes that were nearly but not quite used can be utilized for shampoo. Put them into a jar after cutting and shaving into bits, cover with water and stand in the oven, stirring occasionally. Leave until dissolved into a jelly, bottle and cork and use for a shampoo, being careful afterward to rinse the hair entirely clean.

STRIKE NOT SETTLED

President Shaffer Put a Quietus on Such a Rumor.

WELLSVILLE IS THE STRIKE CENTER.

Open Public Meeting Held There Today—Principal Events of the Third Day of the Steel Strike—President Schwab Will Not Talk—Progress of Other Strikes.

Pittsburg, July 18.—President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association put a quietus on the rumor from New York that the strike had been settled by saying: "We have not heard from the other side at any time, in any way or on any subject since we parted at the Lincoln hotel last Saturday."

President Shaffer also said no actual negotiations were on between President Bishop of the Ohio state arbitration board and himself tending toward arbitration. A letter received by Mr. Shaffer from Mr. Bishop asking if he would consent to a reopening of the conference has not been answered by the Amalgamated officials.

The principal events in the third day's strike history were the failure of the sheet steel people to reopen the Wellsville plant with nonunion men; the offer of financial assistance made to the Amalgamated Association by the 2,000,000 members of the American Federation of Labor and by the American Glass Workers' association; the concerted action of the association to organize the immense sheet steel plant at Vandergrift, and the fact that several of the closed plants are being patrolled by armed watchmen and guards.

The only man on the side of the steel combine who has said anything up to date is Persifer F. Smith, district manager of the sheet steel company. The fight he has on at Wellsville is being followed closely by the workmen. An open public meeting was held at Wellsville at which President Shaffer in person presented the strikers' side of the case in an endeavor to overcome the effects of alleged misstatements concerning the late conference. Manager P. F. Smith was invited to attend the meeting and make a statement for the sheet company. The entire community of Wellsville is worked up over the strike.

While Wellsville is the strike center now, the battleground will be shifted to McKeesport next week if the report be true that the W. Dewees Wood plant of the American Sheet Steel company will resume operations. This would afford one of the most trying situations of the strike. It would necessitate the importation of nonunion men from other places and the bitter feeling engendered by such a move would be hard to control. The platform of Enterprise lodge of the Amalgamated Association, which includes most of the employees of the Wood mill, is opposed to all violence. During the strike last spring no effort was made to hinder men from going to work. The same policy, it is said, will be followed in the present struggle, and every suggestion of violence will be frowned at.

The Amalgamated officials professed great satisfaction over the results accomplished since the strike began, but officials of the companies, as heretofore, would say nothing.

Schwab Remains Silent. New York, July 18.—The highest officials of the United States Steel corporation were unanimous in saying there was no new development in the steel strike situation. Charles M. Schwab, president of the corporation, called at the office of J. P. Morgan and had an extended conference. When asked to reply to President Shaffer's alleged statement to the effect that the strike would be ended at once if the manufacturers would allow the Amalgamated Association to organize the nonunion plants, Mr. Schwab begged to be excused.

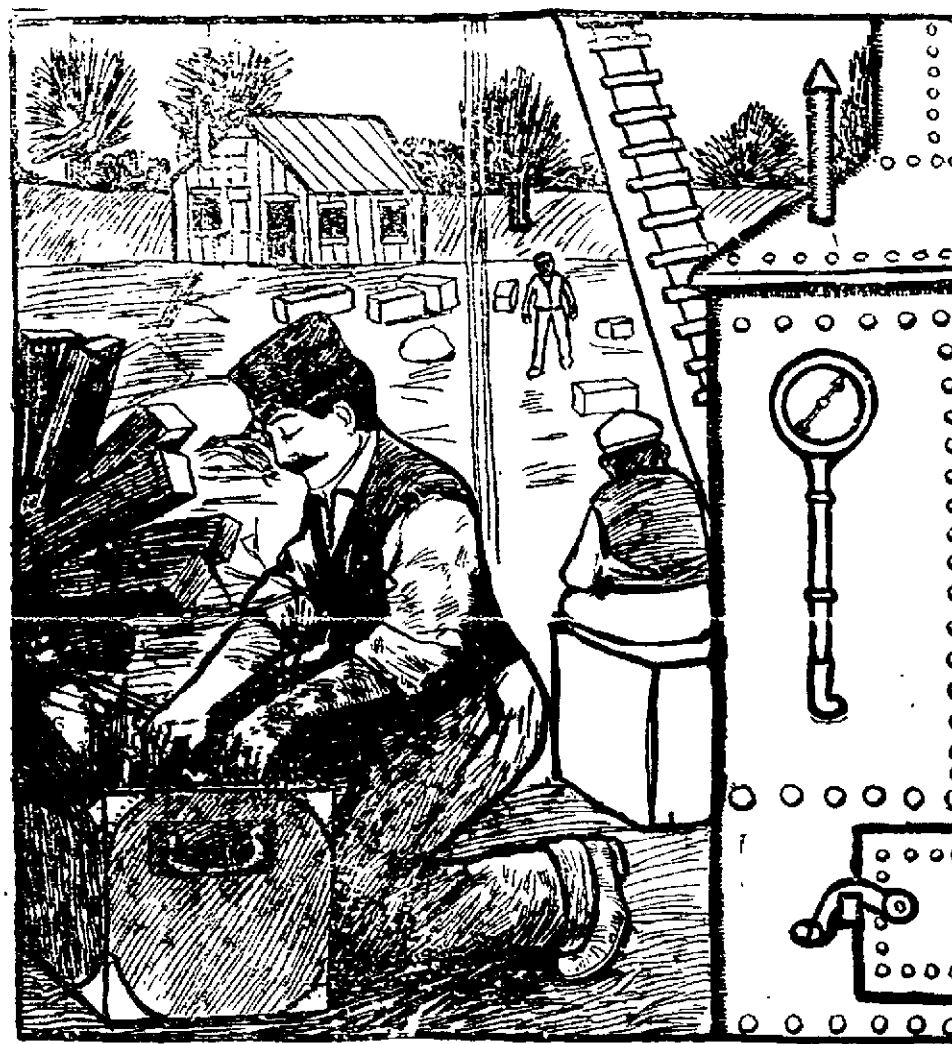

The Mine Firemen's Strike. Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 18.—The close of the second day of the stationary firemen's strike found fully 38,000 miners idle in the Wyoming district of the anthracite coal region, which extends from Durysa to Nanticoke. The number of idle men was increased by the suspension of railroad crews on nearly all commercial branches. No coal being mined, there is none to haul to the breakers. The total number of men idle in the whole anthracite region is estimated at 65,000.

Collieries Closed. Scranton, Pa., July 18.—There were 41 collieries, employing 25,000 men, thrown idle by the firemen going on strike. The idle collieries are as follows: Twenty-six of the Delaware and Hudson company's 30, six of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company's 25, three of the Ontario and Western company's 11, two of the Temple company's seven and four of the Pennsylvania Coal company's 28.

Alabama Coal Miners Out. Birmingham, Ala., July 18.—There are 600 Galloway and Chickasaw coal miners out on a strike at the Carbon Hill coal fields. The men belong to the United Mine Workers and insist that the companies renew the last year's scale of wages. Deputy sheriffs have been sent to the mines, although no arrests have been made.

Erie Declares a Dividend. New York, July 18.—The directors of the Erie Railway company have declared a dividend of 1½ per cent on first preferred stock, the first for that stock. The election of E. B. Thomas of the Erie as chairman of the board of directors of the Lehigh Valley railway was formally carried out at a meeting of the board of directors in Philadelphia.

ENGLAND SUFFERING FROM THE DROWTH

Sun Burning up Crops—Live Stock Market Crowded—Good Rains in America.

London, July 18.—Although Scotland and Ireland have recently enjoyed local thunderstorms, there is no prospect for rain in the middle and southern parts of England, and a steady increase of heat for several days to come is predicted. There is general complaint from the country that the sun is burning up the crops. The sunshine is everywhere greatly in excess of the average, the temperature is above the mean and the rainfall is far short of the average. London is a great sufferer from the heat, as the city has not had rain for weeks. Sunstrokes, apoplexy and heat prostrations are frequent and the hospitals are busy. The live stock market is unusually crowded, as owing to the failure of pastures farmers are forced to sell their cattle.

Rains in Various Sections. Washington, July 18.—Reports from various sections tell of generous rains in the corn belt of the southwest. Rain fell at Kansas City. There were showers in Mississippi. A heavy rainstorm struck Birmingham and other points in Alabama, with severe lightning. Four people were killed by lightning during a severe storm in Florida. LaCrosse, Wis., had a destructive wind and rain storm and rain was general throughout the state. Michigan had rains, with a cloudburst at Ionia.

Will Go After Smugglers. Milwaukee, July 18.—The United States government, through the treasury department, is preparing for an extensive raid on sailors and lake captains who are suspected of complicity in smuggling goods into this country from Canadian ports. A warrant was sworn to for the arrest of one James H. Walker, who was a cook on the vessel Bon Ami, for smuggling whisky from Port Arthur to Duluth. Walker is being held at Marinette. It is charged that many vessel men bring liquors in large quantities from Canada. The government has agents in Canadian ports securing evidence against vessels under suspicion.

She got off the train at South Bend to escape the man, who was following her. She is quite attractive in appearance and has traveled all over the United States. The police are trying to verify her story.

NEW CANAL TREATY.

Lord Pauncefote Hard at Work on the Proposition.

HE HAS IT ABOUT HALF FINISHED.

Confident It Will Meet With the Approval of the President and Senate. Speaks of His Delightful Labors at Washington and Praises the People of America.

London, July 18.—In an interview here Lord Pauncefote says he is frequently in conference with the Marquis of Lansdowne regarding a new canal treaty and reciprocal treaties for British islands in West Indies.

When asked if he thought there was any possibility of arriving at an agreement regarding the Nicaragua canal before Congress reconvened, he replied: "Yes, I sincerely hope so. We are now in the middle of the negotiations, which, although they have not yet reached any tangible result, show good promise. Naturally I may not disclose the details, but I may say that when I return to the United States at the end of October, I hope to take with me a Nicaragua treaty that will meet the views of both President McKinley and the British cabinet. It goes without saying that the president has made himself cognizant of the opinions of the senate and of the secretary of state. There is no use wasting time over treaties which the senate is likely to refuse. I really believe the differences of opinion between the two nations are capable of settlement in an agreement fair to both. If I could finish my delightful labors in the United States by accomplishing this end, I should indeed feel gratified. But the only way this can be attained is step by step with proposition followed by counter-proposition, and eventually a happy medium. It is slow, but I hope it is sure. If I thought anything could be done before October, I would return prior to that date, but I do not believe that anything would be gained."

Reverting to the report that a majority of the senate favored a neutral canal, Lord Pauncefote said: "It would be good news if true. I happen to know that Mr. Hay consulted the senate, both the section supposed to support him and the section credited with other motives. You may be sure that whatever is agreed upon between the two governments will meet with the approval of the senate."

Lord Pauncefote paid a warm tribute to the Americans. "They are the most genial people on the face of the earth," he declared. "At the first grip of the hand they take you to their hearts. So long as you do not try to deal in an underhand way, and so long as you do not assume superior airs, they treat you as one of their own, and no one could say more than this."

When asked if the joint commission was likely to sit again in Washington, he replied: "Yes, I think it will, although this will not occur until after my return. I do not agree with the opinion that the sessions already held have resulted in no good. The joint commission has threshed out many points of difference between Canada and the United States, although the inability to agree as to the Alaska boundary and the death of Lord Herschell appeared, perhaps, to nullify the commission's labors. I see that the Boston chamber of commerce has petitioned for reciprocity with Canada. This I regard as a most hopeful sign. It will be one of my aims when I return to the United States to foster the desire for a closer commercial relationship between the Dominion and the United States. I know all the difficulties standing in the way, but I can not help thinking that some arrangement which will be to the mutual advantage of the two countries is feasible."

So in prescriptions good service means more than being careful about weights and measures. It means carefulness long before your prescription is brought to us. It means that we have been careful as to purity when buying chemicals, and have exercised care in making all those liquids medicines which we keep ready for use on our shelves and in our closets. We are careful in every step of prescription work.

Draining Land. There are many places which need draining only because of some spring which does not discharge at the surface, but rises near it and then saturates the soil all about it until it finds some place where it can drain off. We have seen such a place well drained by a shallow, open ditch that led up to the spring, changing the entire previous bog meadow to firm land with a running brook of pure spring water through it. Other places need the more thorough drainage given by the tile drains at about two rods apart to carry away not only any spring water that may come up through them, but the surface water that comes down from surrounding higher lands. One of the readiest methods of distinguishing these bogs is that where there is a hidden spring the land will be wet even in a dry season, while the other may get quite firm in times of drought. The spring also may often be found by the fact that the snow melts earlier during the winter and the grass starts earlier in the spring and keeps green during the dry spell in summer or fall.

Yellows in Pea Vines. Almost any trouble which will cut off the food supply of the vine will cause a yellowing and subsequent wilting of the foliage. Pea vines in northern New York showed a yellowing and withering of the lower leaves, says Professor Craig of the New York experiment station. As the disease progresses this yellowing extends up the vine until the entire foliage is enveloped. When a vine so affected is pulled up, it is found that the lateral roots have completely decayed and dropped away. In every instance that came under my observation the disease was worse in fields which had been consecutively cropped by peas. I believe that a change of crop is the only practical remedy that can be offered. It is true that certain varieties are more susceptible to the disease than others, but so far as I am informed no variety is entirely exempt.

Cooling Milk. To run all milk in a thin sheet over a series of pipes filled with ice water is all that is needed to aerate and cool it. At the same time it is perhaps the easiest and least expensive method of insuring long keeping. Such a series of pipes can be prepared at small cost, and with a strainer at the bottom or place where milk passes out there will be but small chance of injurious bacteria increasing and multiplying there so rapidly as to insure an early accession of the rancid and several others of the many bad flavors.

Dry Poisons. In using any of the dry powder gums it is best to mix the poison with two or three times its weight of flour that one may see it better. It also forms a paste that will adhere to the vines, and if the poison is good and applied properly it is very effective.

PECULIAR FREAK

Of Lightning in East End B. & O. Yard Office---Several Places Were Struck by Lightning Wednesday Afternoon.

A peculiar freak of the lightning in Wednesday evening's storm was that at the East End B. & O. yard office. There were seven wires which had formerly been used for telegraph, but had been abandoned and left hanging at the south side of the building. These became heavily charged with electricity, and fifteen minutes after the storm had passed, the electricity seeking a conductor from the super-charged wires, jumped across the office, a distance of nine feet, to the telephone which it burned out.

Fred Mikesell and Conductor Samuel Moore who were in the office were severely shocked.

Lightning struck several places in Newark and vicinity during the severe storm of Wednesday evening. The heaviest loser will be Col. William Veach, who lives south of town over Second street hill. His barn was struck, took fire, and was totally destroyed with a quantity of hay, buggy and farm implements and other contents. A large number of chickens also perished.

Col. Veach had an insurance of $600 on the barn and its contents, but his loss will be much greater than that amount.

The house occupied by Mrs. Rees, as a boarding house at 105 West Church was also struck, one of the tall chimneys in the rear being badly damaged.

A. M. Lampton's residence, 193 Williams street, was struck, and the corner torn out. The damage will be about $30. Mrs. Lampton, her son and daughter were severely shocked. Mr. Lampton said that had it been at night, his 14-year-old son would have been killed, as his bedroom was in the corner which was destroyed.

Several tents of the Sixth O. N. G. regiment's camp on the state camp grounds were blown down during the storm.

NATURAL GAS

From the New Licking County Field to be Piped to Everett Factory and Also for Use by Citizens of Newark.

Attorney S. M. Winn, president of the Licking Drilling, Gas, Oil and Mineral Company, is here from Zanesville stopping at Room No. 40, Warden Hotel, arranging to open an office for his company which within a few days will begin to take natural gas contracts at the rate of fifteen cents per thousand cubic feet.

The company which Mr. Winn represents which has been granted a franchise in Newark, now controls 4,200 acres of land in the new gas field in northern Licking county, having acquired 600 acres this week.

The company has one splendid well and has begun to drill another 500 feet west of the Smith well near Highwater on the Licking farm, which is about ten miles from Newark.

The territory held by this company is surrounded by four producing wells and there is little doubt in the minds of those financially interested that the field is a valuable one. One man who is familiar with the land says it is a better field than the Sugar Grove.

Mr. Edward H. Everett who has a good well in the vicinity of the Licking company's land, is now arranging to pipe the gas to Newark for use in the Everett glass factory.

Mr. Winn says his company will begin within a few weeks to pipe gas to Newark and will then pipe the city in accordance with the terms of the franchise which was recently granted by the city council.

Within a few days Mr. Winn hopes to be established in a downtown office for the convenience of the people.

It is estimated that it will take about $125,000 to pipe Newark for natural gas.

Newark is now receiving natural gas from the Sugar Grove district about forty miles distant.
